Mrs. Sue Curtis has received several interesting letters from her son, Clyde, in France. He writes he is hopeful of being able to enjoy turkey and old ham with the homefolks Christmas. Here's hoping his wishes will come true. I wonder how many mothers are seeing to it that their home paper gets to the boys "over there?" I know the Interior would be eagerly read by them all, and I hope the Lincoln boys are reading letters from home each week. The thought that maybe they are, helps us to try hard to get every item we can.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS

Stanford People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them.

Disordered kidneys give many signals of distress.

The secretions may be dark, contain sediment.

Passages are sometimes frequent, scanty, painful.

Backache is often present day and night.

Headaches and dizzy spells may occur.

Weakened kidneys should receive quick help.

Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.

Stanford evidence proves their worth.

W. H. Mershon, Lancaster, St., Stanford, says: "I suffered from attacks of kidney trouble and my back was sore and lame and ached dreadfully. It was misery for me to do any stooping or lifting. My sight blurred and black spots came before my eyes, dizzy spells came over me suddenly and I would stagger like a drunken man. The action of my kidneys was too frequent most of the time. Doan's Kidney Pills, from the Lincoln Pharmacy went right to the spot, relieving the backache and regulating the action of my kidneys."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Mershon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Worry and overwork cause kidney trouble, and women suffer equally with men. Miss Sara Weston, Belchertown, Ill., writes: "I could not stop and when down I had to crawl up by a chair. I was so lame I suffered agony. Now I feel like a new person, stronger and better in every way. I heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills." Sold everywhere.

WOMAN THINKS SHE IS PRIVILEGED TO TALK

"If anyone ever had a miserable stomach I surely had. It was growing worse, too, all the time. Had severe pains and attacks every ten days or two weeks and had to call a doctor, who could only relieve me for short while. Two years ago last February I took a treatment of May's Wonderful Remedy and I have not had a spell of pain or misery since. My friends just wonder that I am looking so well. I feel I am privileged to talk about it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. The Lincoln Pharmacy; The Penny Drug Store.

"I Love You" is the title of a seven-reel picture that will be shown at the opera house tonight with Alma Ruebens in the stellar role. A one-reel war picture will follow. All for 10 and 15 cents.

ADDITIONAL EDITORIAL

The report comes from Washington that Democratic Leader Kitchin spoke for two days on the new revenue bill. From his past record, we imagined that he could tell all he knew in about thirty seconds.

While the new draft law extends the ages from 18 to 45, it is said that it is not likely that more than 10 above 31 and three below 21 will be called. That's some consolation for the fellows, who thought the war would never get them.

The government is about to commandeer the several hundred sumptuous private cars owned by millionaires and others and convert them to sleeping and chair cars. Many millions have been wasted in these costly and magnificent moving palaces and it is well that they will be put to some good use.

The death of Ex-Senator Joseph Clay Styles Blackburn in Washington Thursday, removes one of the nation's prominent figures of the most capital. His death followed a short illness of heart attack, from which he was a chronic sufferer. Senator Blackburn was born in Woodford county in 1838 and represented Kentucky in the U. S. Senate several terms. Mrs. Blackburn preceded him to the grave a year or so ago. The death of Senator Blackburn is a distinct loss to State and nation, but falls heaviest on his large circle of friends, whose admiration for the splendid Kentuckian was wonderful.

With the Courier-Journal, The Times, The Post and all the other Democratic newspapers worthy the name giving Gov. Stanley loyal support and the hatchet that has kept him and Beckham apart buried, we trust never to be resurrected, there is nothing so sure in the future as that Gov. Stanley will take his seat in the United States Senate next March to give the country the best that is in him for the ensuing six years. Let every Democrat appoint himself a committee of one to see that his majority is such that will warm the cockles of the heart of the great man at Washington, who will regard his triumphant election as a hearty endorsement of his war policies and a message of confidence in the arduous work he is doing for the relief of mankind.

The War Mothers of America met on Monday afternoon, and had an interesting meeting. ## WAITING FOR THE PUMPS

Mr. Joe Wieland, who has 14 paying oil wells on his farm in the South End of the county, was in the city Thursday afternoon. Asked how the oil situation is, he said: "Everything is in readiness and we are just waiting for the arrival of the pumps. The pipe line is all laid from Waynesburg to the oil field and it will be only a short time until pumping will begin in earnest." Mr. Wieland is confident that his entire section is underlaid with oil and that the field will be a lasting one.

DULL TERM OF COURT

The Garrard county grand jury returned only 10 indictments and the term just ended is said to have been the dullist in years. John Sewell was awarded $800 for personal injuries inflicted by Henry Teater. In the case of Robert Dunn against the L. & N., a verdict for the defendant was given.

UP AND ABOUT AGAIN

"I was sick in bed with kidney trouble," writes C. F. Reynolds, Elmina, N. Y. "I commenced taking Foley Kidney Pills and in a few days was out of bed. Keeping up the treatment, I was able to go to work. Since then I have had no more back-aches." Foley Kidney Pills stop sleep-disturbing bladder ailments. Sold everywhere.

13½ COLUMNS SALE "ADS"

Col. G. B. Swinebroad, the Lancaster "sale wizard," believes in the use of printer's ink, proof of which is shown in the fact that he takes 13½ columns of this issue of the I. ## THE LATEST WAR NEWS

Following several weeks of almost painful inactivity, the First American field army, under the direct command of Gen. Pershing, struck a powerful blow at the German lines in the Toul sector yesterday morning and advanced to a depth of five miles at some points along the twenty-mile front. The drive was made on the two sides of the point in the German line known as the St. Mihiel sector. On the south the Americans attacked along a twelve-mile front, and took a number of towns. On the west they attacked over a frontage of eight miles and also took territory. The French in the meantime attacked in the direction of St. Mihiel, between the two American forces, and closed in to the outskirts of the town. The object of this drive is to open a path to an attack on Metz, sometimes called "the Verdon of Germany."

The torpedoing of the American transport with the loss of not a man and the probable destruction of the enemy submarine is regarded in Washington as an allied victory rather than a German coup. The saving of the 2,800 men on board and the beaching of the large vessel are regarded as wonderful.

For the first time in nearly four years the shadow of gloom has lifted from about Paris, and that great city looks to the future with more optimism than it has felt since the war began. Gen. Foch and Premier Clemenceau—"The Tiger"—have the supreme confidence of the people. Rich and poor alike believe that victory is certain.

Angered at the division of the spoils of war, a strong Turkish force is reported to be on its way to the Bulgarian border. For some months the two countries have been at loggerheads and an open breach has been expected hourly by Germany. Washington officials view the report with the hope that the two nations may break away from German vassalage.

Provost Marshal General Crowder announced Tuesday that of the new draft registrants, men between the ages of 19 to 20 and 32 to 36, both inclusive, will be called first and older men will not be inducted into the service until the classes formed by the younger men are exhausted. Some of the new registrants may be called in October.

EXCEEDS ESTIMATE

The government's figures for the registration of yesterday in this county are 1,663, but a total of 1,816 men between the ages of 18 and 45 recorded themselves as willing to fight for Uncle Sam in the terrible war that is now being waged. When the registration of June 5, 1917, was taken for ages from 21 to 31, 1,247 men registered, and adding to these the other two registrations of this year, the sum total greatly exceeds 3,000 men subject to battle for this great country. Following is the registration by precincts:

"PEP" REMEMBERS HOMEFOLKS

Camp Mills, Long Island, N. Y., Aug. 29.—To the I. J. and Friends back home. If you'll allow me, I'll write a brief note, which will probably be my farewell before going abroad. I am getting along fine and dandy, except I sometimes get homesick and wish to be back home again for keeps in "Dear old Kentucky." But what's the use of wishing when you can't have what you wish?

This is the third camp that I have had the pleasure of visiting while in the service, and this trip from Camp Sherman, Ohio, to Camp Mills, Long Island, N. Y., was the greatest yet for our company. We were on the train 48 hours including a few hours taker up in stopping off at different cities. Our first meal after being on the train was dinner served at Columbus, O. Then we had supper at Cleveland, where the Red Cross gave us all kinds of nice things to eat and drink. It was about 9 o'clock when we left Cleveland, so all quieted down for our first night's sleep on the trip, the first thing I knew was next morning when I awoke we were in the station at Buffalo, where breakfast was served.

Then a short while after the Red Cross gave us a real treat at Geneva, Pa. I know the Red Cross are the greatest people and best stranger-friends a "little soldier boy" ever had. We stopped off at Sayre, Pa., where all had the pleasure of going bathing, this was great. After leaving here we were in the Allegheny Mountains for six or eight hours, the scenery was perfectly beautiful and I enjoyed it to the fullest extent.

Night came on then and when I awoke the following morning we were in Jersey City, N. J. We took a ferry here for Long Island, N. Y. Just as we left the Jersey coast to my right I could see Ellis Island and back of that was the Statue of Liberty overlooking New York harbor. It had always been the height of my ambition to see this wonderful sight, but never hoped to under these circumstances, but I am enjoying it all any way "so far." We arrived in camp in the afternoon and all are having a great time.

I could write you for a whole day and not get through but I must say goodbye, good luck, God bless you until we all come home again, I am sincerely,

CORPORAL RICHARD PEPPLES,
Co. E, 336 Inf., 84th Div., U. S. Army, Camp Mills, Long Island, N. Y.

Many indications point to a serious shortage of munitions for the big German guns, according to Washington experts, who are carefully scanning all reports for confirmation of their belief that the Hun system of producing war vitals is on the verge of collapse.

They are eating crows in Germany and it is said they find them quite toothsome. The Kaiser himself had better be getting used to that kind of diet. It is all he will get after the war, if indeed he will be in need of any kind of food.

Gail Borden Johnson, first vice president of the Pacific Mutual Insurance Company, dropped dead while walking on Broadway, New York.

STANLEY SHOWED GRIT

IN HIS FIRST RACE

Probably no man in Kentucky was beset with or overcame more obstacles in a quest for office than Gov. A. O. Stanley in his first race, and he is fond of telling his many experiences in that memorable campaign which meant so much to him.

In 1897, when he was young and penniless, although he contends the latter condition has not improved much, Mr. Stanley became a candidate for the Democratic nomination for County Attorney of Fleming county, for which he had several opponents and the machine against him.

The primary had been called for late in December and for several weeks before it was held that section had been visited by floods and blizzards, which made campaigning in the rural districts practically out of the question. While the other candidates, and in fact everybody else, kept indoors and electioneering was suspended, Mr. Stanley, who wanted the office more than anything else at that time, conceived the idea that it would be an opportunity for him to brave the elements and visit the voters while there was little likelihood of any of his opponents being around.

Procuring a pair of rubber wading boots and an oilskin coat, he sallied forth to get votes, frequently giving an imitation of Washington crossing the Delaware, in fording the swollen streams running with ice. How he managed to cross the flooded creeks and escape freezing to death Mr. Stanley says he will never know, but he attributes it to a benign Providence. One big advantage that he had, and which he counted upon in advance, was that he found all the voters at home and around blazing log fires, with nothing to do but hear his claims for the nomination he sought and his hazardous experiences in venturing to electioneer under such difficult conditions.

As he had figured it out, Mr. Stanley had the campaign all to himself for several weeks during which the floods and bitter cold lasted, and the grit he showed in seeking office under such unfavorable circumstances made a hit with the voters he visited, with the result that when the primary was held they did not forget Owsley Stanley for county attorney, and he won the nomination with flying colors and was subsequently elected to the office, which gave him the start in his political career that includes six terms as a congressman, one term as governor and the prospect of six years more as United States Senator. —Kaltenbacker in Louisville Times.

The Bank on the "corner next to Court-house"

The patriotic manner in which the people generally respond to all requests of the government speaks volumes in praise of our country. With little complaint they have obeyed the 50-50 regulations regarding flour, have issued no complaint with reduced sugar ration and now respond with few regrettable exceptions to conserve gasoline for the use of the army by cutting out Sunday joy riding. It is indeed a credit to the owners of automobiles that so few of them are reported over the country as having ignored the request of the fuel administrator.

With the brewing of beer ordered discontinued after Dec. 1st, and prohibition to go into effect next July, a desert is in near prospect that makes the dryness of Sahara look like an oasis. Intoxicating beverages will soon be so high that only millionaires can afford a drunk.

The Republicans won the victory in Maine, but as they only held what they already had, it is neither surprising nor unexpected. Of course the organs of that party will put up the usual claim "as goes Maine, so goes the nation," but if they can get any comfort out of it, let them have it. They have had little to cheer them for in these many days.

Gen. Crowder says men from 19 to 20 and 32 to 36 will be the first to be called under the extension of the draft, but we are hoping, as well as believing, that even they will not be needed. The huns are on the run, and Gen. Pershing and the French and British will see that they keep it up till Berlin will fall easily into the hands of the Allies.

$8,000,000,000 BY TAXATION

The new revenue bill, which has been under preparation for several months, is at last in shape for consideration in Congress. It is the greatest tax raiser ever conceived by the nation, and it is expected to raise the almost inconceivable sum of eight billions of dollars, and effects nearly every individual. Estimating the population of the country at 106,012,000, it is $76.76 per capita, a third more than the money per capita, which was $52.44 August 1st. The tax represents more than the combined value of all crops and all live stock on the farms. Excess profits, as they should, will yield the largest amount, $3,941,633,000, and taxes on incomes $1,482,180,000. Alcoholic beverages, wines and soft drinks are expected to pay $1,137,600,000, and so on. Incomes of $3,000 and over are taxed 3 per cent, with an increasing scale as they go up. The money has to be raised to prosecute the war, and we who foot the bills are doing nothing to compare to those who are giving their blood and lives. Let every man do his duty by reporting his holdings in full. The government metes out severe punishment to the men who fail or refuse to answer the call to register and enlist, and it will surely not be less stringent with the slackers who refuse to do their utmost with their money.

According to the war department 200,000 pounds of lemon drops are issued to the soldiers per month, constituting 15 per cent. of the candy furnished the army, which is given a regular ration of the sweet. The drops are decidedly the favorite, when made by the government formula, which provides pure granulated sugar, flavored with an emulsion made from the rind of the lemon and giving them the thirst-quenching qualities of lemonade. No other government has tried to cater so fully to the wants of its defenders as ours and the men appreciate and show it by the most loyal service.

The appointment of Mr. Martin to be short term Senator recalls the question of Senator Beck, when Mr. Buck, of Midway, was appointed minister to Peru by President Cleveland. The Senator had recommended the appointment and had forgotten it when told of it asked with great emphasis, "who in the hell is Buck?" Such inquiry is likely to be made of Mr. Martin, but if he makes as good a report of himself, and we believe he will, as Mr. Buck did as minister, all will be lovely.

Bee Whittis, a Somerset undertaker, is too speedy for his business. He was fined $50 and costs in Fayette county the other day for racing with an interurban car and distancing it. He admitted after paying his fine that he was driving so fast that his speedometer could not register.

The Range Eternal out-looks, out-cooks and out-lasts every other range on the market. It is the most beautiful range you can buy. The brightly polished nickel, the blue steel of the body and the dull color of the top make this range a constant source of pride. ### LEXINGTON GETTING DRY

When Transylvania College becomes a military camp at the opening of the fall term next week, Lexington will become nearly dry. Practically every saloon will close, there being only a "fringe" on the outskirts which will not be hit by the dry zone ruling, which also applies to the University of Kentucky, where there is already a military camp. Bars in the hotels will be hit just the same as the regular saloons, and a trip of many blocks will be necessary for those who desire a "nip." Some saloons which were closed when the camp was transferred to the university from the fair grounds can reopen as soon as the transfer is officially complete.

From the region of Cambrai west to St. Gobain and eastward to the territory north and northeast of Soissons, the huns are making a mighty effort to ward off the blows of the Allies, for here, it is believed, the enemy lines are in the most critical position. In spite of heavy rains and drenched ground the British pushed forward toward Cambrai while the French to the south are within sight almost of La Fere and St. Quentin. Farther to the north the British are nearing Armentieres and can take the town at will, it is believed.

LIEUT. CECIL WILLIAMS

It has been given out from Washington that Cecil Williams, who enlisted in the army last May, has been commissioned First Lieutenant. Mr. Williams is owner and former publisher of the Somerset Journal, the oldest Democratic paper in the mountains of Kentucky. He was chief clerk in the Insurance Department at Frankfort during the McCreary administration. He has been stationed at Camp Meigs since his enlistment. Mr. Williams is the third son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Williams to volunteer for Uncle Sam's service.

Washington has received word from Ambassador Francis that a treaty between Germany and the Russian Bolsheviks has been signed in Berlin by which Germany promises to protect Russia against invasion from Finland if the Bolsheviks join the huns in arms against the Allies. For this protection Russia also is to give 6,000,000,000 marks to Germany.

Destruction of a German U-boat by gunfire from the American steamer Frank H. Buck off the Atlantic coast September 3 was reported to the Navy Department by the master of the steamer. He said that two direct hits were made.

Read and Act

"Brains to conceive and energy to execute" expresses it in a nutshell.

Just once get the right idea in your head that you ought to own your own home and quit giving away one-half of what you make to your landlord, but take it all for yourself, and then get busy and select what you want and BUY it. It is an injustice to yourself and family to continue the way you are. The cheapest and most plentiful thing in America today is Money and terms are so easy that you can practically say what it shall be. The following are a few of the many Golden Opportunities we have to offer you in the way of homes and splendid paying investments:

No. 317—500 acres of land of which over 200 acres are cleared and of this 200 acres there are about 125 acres in good orchard grass and balance in cultivation. This farm is all under fence and plenty of good cross fences. It has five houses, two of six rooms each, two of four rooms each and one of two rooms. It has two large tobacco barns. One of the barns is 100 feet long, and today would cost more than $2,000.00 to build it. The other barn is an extra large barn and is stock and tobacco barn combined. It is about 40x80. A complete blacksmith shop on place. This place is well watered by wells, cisterns, springs, creeks, etc. Good tobacco land. You can raise $6,000.00 or $7,000.00 worth of tobacco alone on this farm in one season. It will produce ten barrels of corn to the acre and no fertilizer. It is located at the head of Hanging Fork. It will make a splendid stock farm. A little rough, but as cheap as dirt, and a fine place to make good money. The price is only $20.00 per acre and terms $3,000.00 down and balance at the rate of $1,000.00 per year until paid for. This farm will soon pay for itself. It will pay you to investigate this proposition as it will not be on the market long at this price.

No. 318—A dandy two-story residence on Logan Street in Stanford, Kentucky, of twelve rooms and four large storage rooms and extra large basement. This place is all practically completed and what is not finished the material is now on the ground to finish it with, and it will take about $75.00 worth more of work to complete it. The owner of this property is in bad health and while he has expended in all up to the present of over $4,000.00 on the property he has instructed us to let it go at the low figure of only $2,750.00 and terms right. His loss is your gain. Look into this proposition at once. It is sure a live one.

No. 319—Nice four-room cottage and outbuildings all in good repair and cisterns. Garden and large yard. Price only $700.00 and easy terms.

No. 319—300 acres of land, 100 acres in extra fine bottom land will raise anything. 100 acres in good grazing land about 100 acres in extra good timber. Has two-story, six-room house and two large halls and all necessary outbuildings. Two extra large barns. Splendidly watered and close to graded school, churches, bank, etc. About 2 acres in orchard. This farm is a peach. Price $21,000.00. Terms, one-half down and balance in one, two and three years. Look it over.

No. 320—81 acres of first class land near a splendid town. House of six rooms, barns, etc. Well watered and fenced. A good hemp and tobacco land farm. Price $10,500.00. Terms, one-half down and balance to suit purchaser.

No. 321—62 acres all in young grass. Four room house, barn and all necessary outbuildings. Well watered and fenced and young orchard. Price only $4,500.00 and easy terms.

No. 322—50 acres of land, one-half cleared and balance in timber. Three-room house, barn, etc. Well in yard and plenty of never failing springs. Good peach orchard. Close to school and churches and in good neighborhood. All fresh land will raise tobacco. Price $1,600.00. Terms right.

No. 323—92 acres, about 30 acres cleared and in cultivation and balance in timber. Two houses, one of four rooms and one of two rooms. Three barns and other outbuildings. Well watered and fenced. Orchard of 150 apple trees. Close to school and churches. Price $2,500.00.

What is a Branch House?

The Branch House is the place in the packing organization where what the packing plant does for you is put where you can use it.

Both are the natural result of growth and development in the living thing they belong to.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are located in distributing centers all over the country. They are fitted out with refrigerating equipment to keep meat cool, sweet and fresh.

Each one is in personal charge of a man who believes in what Swift & Company is doing for people and wants to help do it.

They are directed by men who have spent years learning how to get better meat cheaper to the places where it is needed.

Meat is shipped to the branch houses direct from the packing plants in Swift & Company's refrigerator cars, in such quantities that it can be disposed of while fresh and sweet.

Your meat dealer comes here to buy your meat for you—unless someone else can treat him better than we can.

So you need the branch house in order to live well; and the branch house and the packing plant need each other, in order to be useful to you.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.
